

BRAZIL NOVEMBER 2019

Campo Grande

Around the city of Campo Grande there are a large number of city dwelling Macaws and Parrots.

The Macaws are very prominent with up to 400 pairs of Blue and Yellow Macaws nesting within the boundaries of the city.

Blue and Yellow Macaws are not the only ones as a large number of Green-winged, Red-bellied, Red-shouldered Macaws with some Hyacinth, Yellow-collared and Blue-winged Macaws.

Some of the Blue and Yellow have hybridized with Green-winged Macaws naturally. A phenomenon that researchers are looking into to try to find out why??

Besides the Macaws there are also a smaller number of Parrots nesting within the city including Yellow-faced Parrots and Nanday Conures.

As we are here at the time of the breeding season we will take advantage of whatever we can find..

Our guide has been involved with some of the surveys with these Parrots and Macaws and can take us to several nesting sites over the next days.
